Who Enjoys CityStuff Volunteers More – Students or Teachers?

Volunteers Rated “The Coolest” by Students

Pint-size Council Members? Yes! Participating in the decision making process – Priceless! Pictured: students from Betsy Lamb’s Magnolia Elementary class.

“I think you’re one of the coolest people
I’ve met.”

La Costa Heights student Kayla thanks CityStuff Volunteer Jane Schatt, “I loved the “CityStuff” field trip because I liked speaking in the microphone and doing the Rap and learning about the zones and making a restaurant. Thank you for teaching me.”

CityStuff volunteer Linda Erskian received thanks from La Costa Meadows student Katrina, “I have had so much fun learning about Carlsbad. The Fast Fact book was the best. Thank you so much. P.S. I think you’re one of the coolest people I’ve met.”

Teachers Rave About Their Citystuff Volunteers

Magnolia Elementary teacher Bobbi Seelig listens intently as students share their newspaper headline ideas.

Aviara Oaks Elementary teacher, Jill Ward, “Great activities; the kids were engaged and learned so much! The field trip to city hall was extremely beneficial. My volunteer, Steve Rubinstein, was wonderful and seemed to really enjoy working with my class.”

Calavera Hills Elementary teacher, Catherine Stolls, “The City Stuff program was a fabulous experience for my students. Bobbi Nunn and Patti Crescenti were knowledgeable instructors who obviously enjoyed working with students. They were enthusiastic about their topics and patient with the third-graders. I also appreciated the fact they were prompt and well-prepared for each lesson.”

Training

Lisa Stavenga had a lot of fun expanding the City Council Photo Chart activity.

Get ideas on ways to infuse your CityStuff lessons with creative and personal extras. Attend the Spring CityStuff Volunteer Training Session:

• Friday, March 13, 9 a.m.-noon

- Georgina Cole Library Community Room
